22 January 2016

The South African High Commission continues to receive expressions of interest from various formations and individual members of the South African expatriate community currently residing in the United Kingdom with respect to forging working partnerships. The expressions cover such areas as skills sharing/exchange, facilitation of donations and mentoring, amongst others. We recognise that these expressions are driven by a genuine interest to be part of the solutions which will propel our nation and people to great success. Therefore, and in order to ensure that our approach is inclusive and effective, the High Commission is undertaking a survey of South Africans who are resident in the UK, looking particularly at the following:

- skills and occupation; and
- area(s) of interest, which individuals/associations would like to undertake in South Africa. These also include profit-generating interests.

To participate in this respect, kindly complete the questionnaire below here and send to: London.diaspora@dirco.gov.za. All responses should reach us by 10 February 2016 for studying and consolidation.
